In Memory of Marilyn Neuenschwander

God: Thank you for touching us with the life of Marilyn. Her love for life, determination to live in the face of pain, illness, and disappointment made us wonder many times, How can she continue?

During 7 of the 12 years she worked at Central she knew was terminally ill with cancer. People were very important to her. She also loved flowers and enjoyed giving things away that she grew in her garden.

Marilyn demonstrated courage in the way she came back repeatedly from being hospitalized. Many have said of her, "She will not give up." She was able to share deeply with persons who experience tragedy, probably because she had so much pain and disappointment in her own life.

God, bless Marilyn in her release from the cares of this life. May she know that her life was an inspiration to those who knew her.

Dear Marilyn,

I'm glad that you are no longer suffering and in a lot of pain.

The school year has ended and yes, we miss your expertise and understanding of what needs to be done to close the school year. Your devotion to Central and dedication to your job has meant a lot to me over the years. You experienced pressures in your job that not many people know about.

You were so dedicated to your job. Remember, Marilyn, when you and I were the only girls in the office? There was lots of work for both and then an order from Bill 993 came in yet with more books to check. Remember the times we worked all night to catch up? And how we desperately tried to stay alert the following day so that no one would find out.

I am often encouraged when I think how you faced your illness with determination to win. You wanted desperately to live to see your sons grow up. Marilyn, they are young men, handsome young gentlemen. I believe God will watch over them along with relatives and friends.

Marilyn, I want my life to bring inspiration to others as yours has to mine. Thanks. Till we meet again,

Edna

TO KNOW CHRIST AND TO MAKE HIM KNOWN

News Items — 1983

Many noteworthy events have taken place over the past year worldwide. Last June, the fairy-tale couple of the world gave birth to a little prince named William who has been in the public eye ever since. Central also gained it's own two little "princes", Jon David (Dave and Doris Risser) and Matthew Paul (Paul and Joyce Gingerich). We also had our own royal wedding uniting Prince Dennis and Lady Susan.

As a community we suffered through the abductions and slayings of two local girls which lead to the fingerprinting of all local elementary school children. We saw two men stand firm on their religious beliefs despite the government's disapproval. Amishmen Eli Hershberger refused to obtain a building permit and Mennonite Mark Schmucker refused to register for the draft. These actions cost both men some time in court.

As contemporary Christian music fans, we cheered (and were not surprised) when Amy Grant was named Gospel Artist of the year and her Grammy Award-winning album, "Age to Age" was named top contemporary album of the year.

The Ohio legislature handed down to Ohioians one of the toughest drunk driving laws in the country only to turn around and find people still drinking and driving, among them a pro football player.

As a nation we struggled through a recession with unemployment hitting 10.4% of the labor force (a record high since the Depression) and wholesale prices constantly rising.

We saw our way through many strikes including the NFL and the truckers' strike.

We were honored with a visit from Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Phillip who both got a dose of the strange weather which plagued the nation all winter long. Rain drenched and flooded California causing much destruction. Snow fell (and fell and fell) on the midwest keeping many trapped in their homes for days. Spring made it's appearance in February for Ohioians only to disappear again bringing the most snow for the winter in March.

There were many controversies, among them the monument in Washington for the Vietnam War Veterans and the arms race which prompted many worldwide protests including one man's attempt to blow up the Washington Monument to make his point.

Last fall, we saw how one man could paralyze a whole nation after lacing Tylenol capsules with cyanide, causing 7 deaths.

The world was constantly in conflict from the fighting in Lebanon which resulted in the massacre of Palestinians in refuge camps, to the unrest in Central America, to Poland and it's fight for solidarity to Beruit which cost the lives of 17 Americans when the U.S. Embassy was bombed.

We've lived through many joys and sorrows as a school, community, state, nation and world. Through it all we have constantly been reminded that God is with us if we will just allow him to be.

IN THE BEGINNING . . .

"Whoops, I missed!"

This year the leadership retreat was held on August 27 and 28. Our fearless leaders invaded the Sonnenberg Annex where they played games, and met with their individual groups. The speaker was Craig Christner from Akron Christian. Those present were STUCO, Campus Ministries, class officers, and the cheerleaders.

Awsome!

But I want the whole thing Daddy

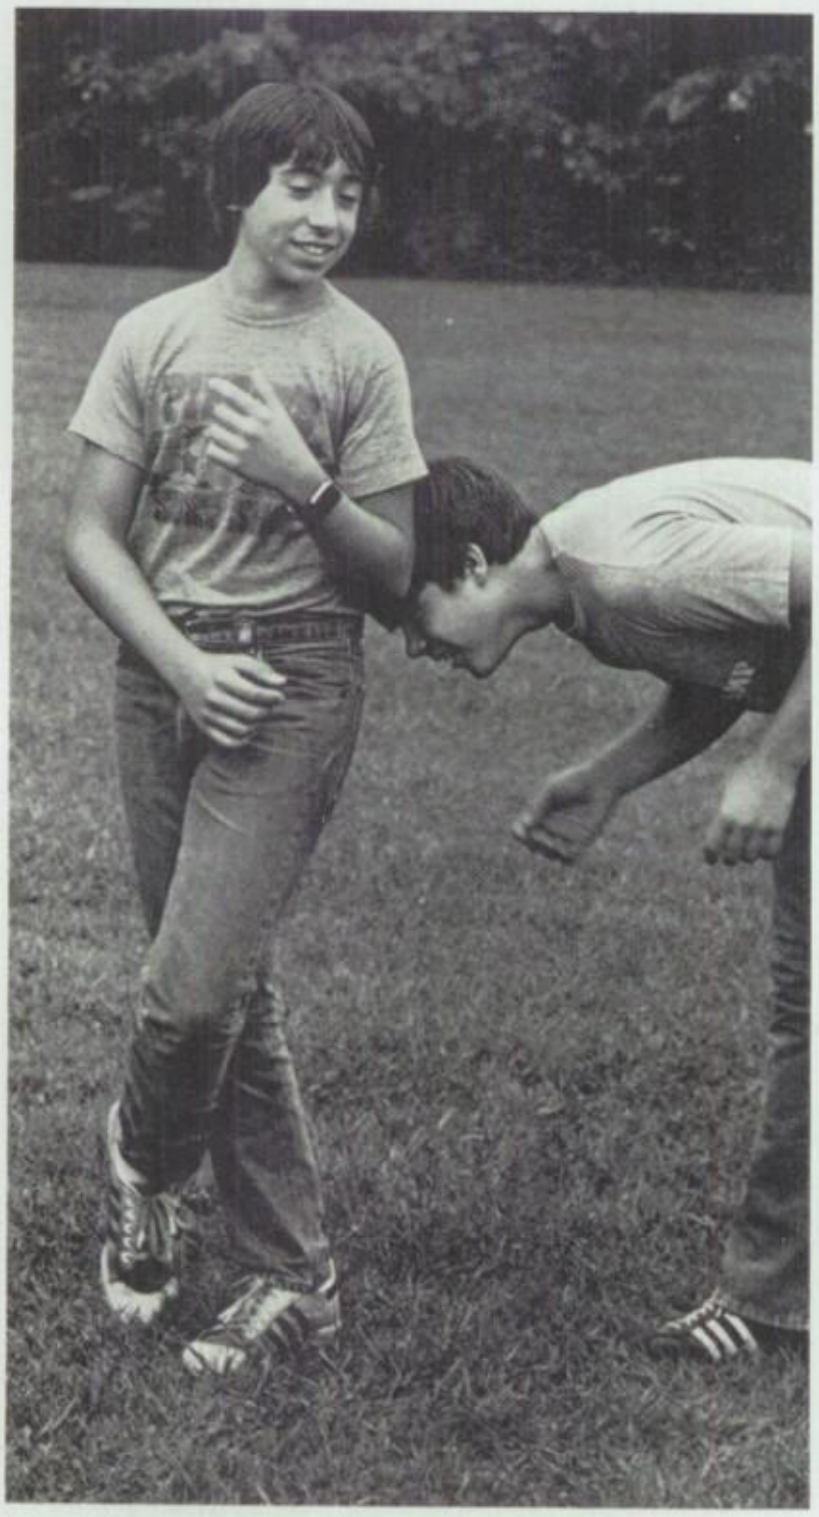
School Day Out



The lengths some people will go to stay close!!

School Day Out is a time when the entire school gets together for a day of fun, fellowship and getting to know each other better. This year it was held at Inspiration Hills. There was a wide variety of types of games played, from frisbee football to people to people. It was an enjoyable time for everybody . . .

Tara enjoys the company of Joe, Jeff, and Andy.

I can't believe my mom actually put pickles with my peanut butter!!!!

Randy's not the type to go along with the crowd . . .

Laurel turns to her friends in a time of need.

Junior Class Play

We'll make out you'll see — 3 AGONIZING minutes — "I bought the stove at an auction for fifty dollars!" — PRIMROSE doing business on stage — Be careful with the curtains!! — WHERE'S DAN!!!! — Late night water fights — "Hi Baby!" — PINCURLS at Goodtimes — cake-faces — "Eat your bun! — and, that rusty, blue bathtub . . . this is what could be heard from those involved with this year's Jr. class play.

Aw come on Jodi . . .

Suck in that gut Lori!

Who made these biscuits?!

The Egg And I

When Susan Mark Landis talks, . . . nobody listens!

Now what does this thing do?!

Oh Danny, it's a dream come true!

Put your head on my shoulder.

Kjetil, Don't be so shy!

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT: proved contagious

Hey Guys! Open your eyes!

This year's volleyball strategies have changed from past years. We learned new plays, movements and our diving and spiking abilities have made an improvement on our season. We ended our season with a record and brought home a second place trophy from tournaments.

We started out with 9 boys and an overwhelming number of girls, 23 to be exact. For coming from so many parts of the world and having such an awkward number, we seemed to pull together well!

Hey, freshmen! Remember our party? The mysterious flying eggs (okay upperclassmen, who's the guilty party)? The nauseating perfume that seemed to seep out of the hay. And the leftover food (by the way, was there any?)

Sophomoric (adj.) of, like, or characteristic of a sophomore or sophomores, often regarded as self assured, opinionated, etc., though immature.

The class became closer this year, but might lose people next year. We "adored" Christian Ethics, but despised the smell of formaldehyde and worms! Happenings: "I Hate Geometry Club" was formed, Susan and Dennis "disappeared" on the hayride (but were later found), we ran the concession stand, no one was scared by the horror movie, poetry . . . no comment, and Drivers Ed produced perilous drivers — look out (especially Joyce). All in all, we had a great year and are looking forward to being upperclassmen.

SIROINES

Lois Hartman (class sponsor), Joe Stoll (class sponsor), Sharon Neuenschwander (secretary), Gary Neuenschwander (V. President), Cindy Schrock (treasure), Rich Shetler (President)

As we began our Senior year, we learned to know each other better. We had new experiences at Sr. Retreat and getting the Fish Fry down to a fine art. We didn't want broken legs to become a fad, seeing how two of our classmates had broken theirs. We all look forward to the Sr. Play, Sr. Class Trip, not planning the banquet and Graduation with specially made announcements.

Goshen College:
Personal Education For Professional Careers

Jane White, a senior with a major in English and minor in communication from Chevy Chase, Md., reports for The Goshen News as part of her practicum at Goshen College.

A solid foundation in Goshen College's Christian liberal arts program can prepare you for rewarding career opportunities.

The new computer systems major is a good example of how Goshen College programs integrate technical knowledge, practical experience and Christian values. Goshen offers career preparation in 33 majors, including education, pre-med, nursing, social work, business, pre-law, accounting, communication and pre-engineering.

Any one of the Central Christian High School graduates below can tell you how Goshen College is preparing them to meet the challenges of the working world.

Daniel Brilhart, interdisciplinary
Dawn Detweiler, biology
Donald Eby, education
Janette Eby, home economics
John Graybill, history
Barbara Kuder, nursing
Karla Miller, music
Jon Nafziger, religion
Jenny Newcomer, psychology
Julie Newcomer, communication
Tim Nussbaum, physics
Stan Roth, biology
Elaine Stoltzfus, accounting
Elaine Swartzentruber, Bible and religion
Jeffrey Yoder, mathematics
Randall Zimmerly, history
Sara Zimmerly, nursing
Terrence Zimmerly, psychology

Goshen COLLEGE

Looking for a college?

Ian Zuercher chose Hesston

"I wasn't sure college would be for me, then I found out about Hesston. I chose Hesston because it is a two-year college. I wasn't sure if I wanted to go to school for four more years, but I did want to go to college. Also, the courses offered and the college life at Hesston are really great. I have enjoyed my experience here at Hesston and would recommend Hesston to anyone."

For more information about Hesston College, call toll free 800-835-2026.
